Introduction

The Speech & Language Support Practitioner Apprenticeship is a specialist development programme for teaching assistants and support staff who want to strengthen their expertise in supporting pupils with speech, language and communication needs (SLCN).

Delivered by Best Practice Network in partnership with Speech & Language Link, the programme combines Best Practice Network's expertise in designing and delivering high-quality apprenticeships with Speech and Language Link's specialist knowledge of speech, language and communication.

Built on the Level 5 Specialist Teaching Assistant standard, the programme supports staff to identify needs early, adapt classroom practice and improve outcomes for pupils across the school.

Who should apply?

This apprenticeship is suitable for school staff who want to develop specialist expertise in speech, language and communication, particularly those supporting pupils with additional needs.

Example roles include:

- Teaching Assistants
- SEND Teaching Assistants
